Confidentiality Policy on the processing of personal data

Who are we and how can you contact us?

eMAG is the commercial name of DANTE INTERNATIONAL S.A., Romanian legal entity, Romanian nationality, with registered office in Bucharest, 148th Soseaua Virtutii, district 6, with serial number in the Trade Register J40 / 372 / 23.01.2002, unique registration tax code RO14399840. Within this Policy, eMAG refers to and targets the companies in the eMAG group mentioned in the Speak-up Policy.

Whereas we are always open to find out about your opinions, as well as to provide you with additional information which you might need regarding the processing of your data, we encourage you to contact the Data Protection Officer at the email address mentioned at the end.

We consider ensuring the right to the protection of personal data as a fundamental commitment, therefore, we will dedicate all our necessary resources and efforts to process your data in full accordance with Regulation (EU) 2016/679 ("General Data Protection Regulation" or "GDPR"), as well as with any other applicable legislation on the Romanian territory. Whereas one of the essential principles of this legal framework is represented by transparency, we have prepared this document by which we wish to inform you about the manner in which we collect, use, transfer and protect your personal data when you interact with us, in relation to the sending of reports under the Speak-up Policy – The Policy regarding the manner of reporting of law or conduct rules violations.

What categories of personal data do we process?

For the above-mentioned purpose (except for the case where you choose to anonymously report), we collect your personal data, as data controller, so that you have control over the information type you provide to us:

- first and last name, email address, phone number,
- other personal data that you provide to us within the report (either captured in the message, or provided by means of an annex).
- during a (potential) investigation, eMAG may also process other personal data regarding the circumstances of the reported conduct or incident, which could be connected to you.

We do not collect or otherwise process sensitive data, included by the General Data Protection Regulation in special categories of personal data.

What are the purposes and grounds of processing?

We will use your personal data for the purpose of carrying out the investigation regarding the reported improper situation or conduct.

Your personal data collected for the above purpose will be processed:

• according to the legal obligation provided by the applicable law in the field of warnings; as provided by the Speak-up Policy; and for the legitimate interest of eMAG which, specifically, supports (i) the monitoring of compliance of the Code of Conduct and of other policies of the eMAG Group; (ii) the prevention of improper conduct and/or; (iii) the establishment, exercise or defence of actions in court.

To whom do we send your personal data?

By filling in your data in the online reporting system provided by the Speak-up Policy, by sending a notification at speak-up@emag.ro or by oral reporting you accept that your personal data is:

- included in the database located on the servers hosted and managed in Germany by GCS Compliance Services Europe Limited, a NAVEX branch, for the purpose of processing reports;
- communicated by eMAG to the Prosus Group of which it is part, for purpose of internal reporting, to consultants, auditors or to the personnel involved in solving reports, and if applicable, to the competent authorities.

We make sure that access to your data by private legal third parties is carried out in accordance with the legal provisions on data protection and information confidentiality, based on contracts concluded with them.

How do we keep your personal data secure?

We are committed to ensuring the security of personal data by implementing appropriate technical and organizational measures, according to industry standards.

What rights do you have?

The general data protection regulation will recognize a number of rights in relation to your personal data. You may request access to your data, the correction of any errors in our files and/or you can object to the processing of your personal data. You can also exercise your right to complain to the competent supervisory authority or to go to court. As the case may be, you can also enjoy the right to request the deletion of your personal data, the right to restrict the processing of your data and the right to data portability.

More information on each of these rights can be obtained by consulting the table presented below.

To be able to exercise your rights, you can contact us using the contact details set out above. Please remember the following aspects if you want to exercise these rights:

Identity. We treat the confidentiality of all records containing personal data with utter seriousness.

Fees. We will not charge a fee to exercise any right regarding your personal data, unless your request to access information is unjustified, repetitive or excessive, in which case we will charge a reasonable amount in such circumstances. We will inform you on any fees applied before settling your request.

Response time. We aim to respond to any valid requests within a maximum of one month, except when this is particularly complicated or if you have made several requests, in which case we will respond within a maximum of two months. We will let you know if we require more than a month. We might ask you if you can tell us exactly what you want to receive or what exactly concerns you. This will help us act faster and shorten the response time to your request.

Rights of third parties. We must not comply with a request if it would negatively affect the rights and freedoms of other data subjects.
